The Great Spirit created Man and Woman in his own image. In doing so, both were created as equals. Both depending on each other in order to survive. Great respect was shown for each other; in doing so, happiness and contentment was achieved then, as it should be now.

The connecting of the Hair makes them one person; for happiness or contentment cannot be achieved without each other.

The Cuyons are represented by the purple in the middle ground, where the people were created. These cuyons are Sacred, and should be so treated at all times.

The Reservation is pictured to represent the land that is ours, treat it well.

The Reservation is our heritage and the heritage of our children yet unborn. Be good to our land and it will continue to be good to us.

The Sun is the symbol of life, without it nothing is possible - plants don't grow - there will be no life - nothing. The Sun also represents the dawn of the Hualapai people. Through hard work, determination and education, everything is possible and we are assured bigger and brighter days ahead.

The Tracks in the middle represent the coyotes and other animals which were here before us.

The Green around the symbol are pine trees, representing our home Hualapai - PEOPLE OF THE TALL PINES.

Hualapai Tribe • September Update
Submitted by: Damon Clarke, Chairman | Hualapai Tribe

Gum iyuje?

To begin we want to send our condolences to our relatives that have recently lost a loved one. The loss of a family member is not easy, as we only can wonder "Why". There are people we can look to for grieving, counselors are available in town and on line or a phone call away. We hope you well as you begin this process.

The first day of fall is a sign that God exists and may you and your family get all the blessings you deserve. Here's to bidding goodbye to summer and welcoming the much-awaited fall season. May this season bring peace and prosperity in your life. We wish you a very happy first day of fall! Have a great time ahead and be healthy. The first day of fall marks the beginning of something great and positive. We are heading into the season of change, holidays, and coming to close of the year and entering a new year. Prepare for the upcoming winter with wood, hunting, and the holidays. Be careful as we have elk hunters in the woods.

The pandemic is still here. Even with the vaccine available, we are not seeing the majority of the community taking the vaccine. Many people not vaccinated are getting the virus, and then only a few that have been vaccinated are getting Covid. We do understand the choice is yours, but we hope you follow the CDC guidelines, of washing your hands; watching your distance; wearing a mask; and staying safe. Also, we are coming into the flu season. Be healthy and take care of yourselves.

It was good to see some of you at the Grand Canyon West anniversary. The day was nice as we had some rain, and the clouds surrounded the area. We hope to see you at the Hualapai Lodge and Restaurant for their anniversary in October.

An update on our Water Settlement, is we met with Congressman Tom O'Halloran; and the members of the State parties from ADWR; SRP; CAP; Freeport McMoRan; and Mohave County reps in Phoenix. We also met with Senator Mark Kelly on Zoom, as that was aired on the radio as well as on Zoom. The meetings were very positive in our quest for Colorado River Water. Taking it to the next level! We are progressing into the next phase of introduction with Congressman O'halleran; Senator Mark Kelly; and Senator Kyrsten Sinema. We are anticipating this will occur sometime this year.

Schools are in fully swing, except for most of the Boarding schools. Please enroll your student into the local schools to continue their education as they need to recover from the on-line issues. This is unless they are on-line, home educated, and are doing well. Especially the Seniors, and Eighth grade students. Keep up on your studies, work hard and ask questions when you don't understand. Don't settle for less, this is your mind you need to invest in it.

We want to thank the Election board for the election and Congratulate Mr. Ronald Quasula, Sr. for his seat on the Council. He will be an asset to the Council as he has been on in the past. Again, Congratulations.

Mr. Walter Walema is the Tribe's new CFO, and Ms. Ami Querta is our new HR Director. We also have hired Ms. Kara Walker for the Education Director, and Mr. Rudy Clark, Jr. returning as the Assistant Judge. We also have hired Ms. Anna Hunter as Assistant to the CFO, and Ms. Kiona Tapija as one of the clerks. Ms. Randi Honga is working as interim payroll assistant. So, as you see, we are building upon our youth as the Administration is growing.

Until next month, take time to give thanks to the Creator, God up above, for all the blessing he has given us. Take time to give thoughts to our relatives from the past who gave up their lives to place us where we are today. Without their sacrifice we would not be in existence. They prevailed in the harshness of the Summer heat, and the Winter coldness. Practice our language, the songs, the stories and culture by visiting the Culture Center and our elders.

Ham okyu.

First Things First • The ABCs of Life: Social-Emotional Development in Early Childhood

Submitted by: Tara Gene, Regional Director | First Things First

HUALAPAI TRIBE
REGIONAL PARTNERSHIP COUNCIL

THE ABCS OF LIFE: HOW SOCIAL-EMOTIONAL DEVELOPMENT IN EARLY CHILDHOOD IS KEY TO SUCCESS LATER

Parents who foster positive, nurturing relationships with their baby, toddler or preschooler will help the healthy development of their child's social-emotional skills that will serve the child later in life. Important social and behavioral skills, such as motivation, self-discipline, focus and self-esteem begin to take root from birth to age 5. Successful people share these traits and families play a large role in helping children to learn these essential life skills.

As Arizona's early childhood agency, First Things First encourages families to establish a nurturing environment during every stage of their young child's life. Families lay the foundation for babies, toddlers and preschoolers to be able to learn how to process the world around them. Helping children learn skills that allow them to express how they feel, have empathy for others and work through conflict will serve them for their entire lifetime.

For babies, creating a nurturing environment starts by making them feel safe and loved. This helps them develop the capacity to form a strong social-emotional foundation. Parents can talk, read and sing with their baby; maintain a consistent routine, so the baby knows what to expect throughout the day; and provide responsive care by smiling, laughing or cuddling with them.

Supporting toddlers in developing emotional skills begins with allowing children to express their feelings. Experts from the U.S. Department of Education say some ways include saying, "You look sad. Let's see if we can make you feel better."

This lets your child know that you are paying attention to their needs and want to be there for them. Lubeck cautions against using time out, which can be counterproductive. "Time outs for big feelings are not helpful to children and can be isolating," she said.

Parents can instead set a good example by talking about their own feelings or emotions, which will help a young child describe their own feelings. For toddlers, use pictures of different emotions and label them for the child. Let the child know it's ok to have strong feelings like anger or frustration and that you are there to help manage those feelings. Show different ways to manage those emotions such as taking deep breaths or spending time with a comfort item, such as a stuffed animal.

For preschoolers, parents can encourage the child to draw a picture of what happened to make them upset and describe what they were thinking and feeling at each stage.

According to the National Association for the Education of Young Children, research shows that children with higher emotional intelligence are better able to pay attention, are more engaged in school, have more positive relationships, and are more empathic. As adults, higher emotional intelligence is linked to better relationships, more positive feelings about work. Helping young children develop emotional intelligence will have a positive impact on them today and as they grow.

Buck-N-Doe 4-H Club • 2021 Mohave County Fair: 4-H/FFA Youth Livestock Auction*Submitted by: Rosemary Sullivan | Buck-N-Doe 4-H Club*

2021 Mohave County Fair 4-H/FFA Youth Livestock Auction

The Peach Springs Buck-N-Doe 4-H Club members took 20 livestock and 1 small stock animal to the fair this year. Our fair time started on Wednesday, September 15, 2021 with hauling all these animals and supplies to the fairgrounds, setting up stalls and getting ready for the official weigh-ins that night. It was exciting to see the kids and families getting together once again for the COUNTY FAIR. (Last year the livestock shows were done virtually and county fair was cancelled due to the Pandemic.) Our club sold 18 animals at the auction on Saturday, September 18, 2021. Thank you to all the families that came out to cheer for the kids during their shows and for supporting 4-H/FFA clubs in Mohave County! The livestock judge was so impressed with the audiences enthusiasm displayed during the shows, this was so great for the kids to hear and know that family and friends got their backs. Thank you to the Hualapai Tribe for sending Councilman Blake Watahomigie and Councilwoman Jonell Tapija as the buyers during the auction. We are so grateful to all the buyers that attended the auction and purchased an animal. Here are the club members and the buyers (and the other tribal purchase) from the auction:

Understanding Isolation and Quarantine

1. If you have any symptoms such as fever, body aches, chills, sore throat, loss of taste or smell, self-quarantine and make an appointment for a COVID-19 Test by calling 769-2900.

Remember, if you are sick, you can get others sick.

Self-Quarantine: Once you test, self-quarantine until you know the results of your test.

If you test Positive: You will be placed on isolation for Ten Days and monitored daily by a I H S Public Health Nurse either by telephone or direct home visits.

Exposure to a Positive Person: If you have been exposed to a Positive Person, Self-Quarantine for 7 days, get tested 3 to 5 days from the exposure date.

Quarantine: Means stay home when you have been exposed to see if you become sick.

Isolation: Means STAY HOME while you are sick. Everyone in the household must isolate-in-place and will be monitored by the Public Health Nurse.

Isolation-Quarantine will NOT end until you have been directed by the Public Health Team, if you violate the terms of isolation or quarantine you are subject to hefty fines that may include jail-time.

2019-2020 Flu Season: Burden and Burden Averted by Vaccination

During the 2019-2020 season, CDC estimates flu caused:

38 million
flu illnesses

400,000
flu hospitalizations

22,000
flu deaths

It could have been even worse without flu vaccines.

Nearly 52% of the U.S. population 6 months and older got a flu vaccine during the 2019-2020 flu season, and this prevented an estimated:

7.5
million
flu illnesses

More than the combined population of Kentucky and
Kansas

105,000
hospitalizations

Enough people to fill Michigan Stadium at the University of Michigan

6,300
deaths

Equivalent to saving about 17 lives per day over the course of a year

Imagine the impact if more Americans chose to get a flu vaccine.
Many more flu illnesses, flu hospitalizations, and flu deaths could be prevented.

The estimates for the 2019-2020 influenza season are preliminary pending additional data from the season.

American Indians and Alaska Natives (AI/ANs) are at higher risk of developing serious complications from flu

A yearly flu vaccine can help protect you and others around you from flu

Flu is a leading cause of pneumonia

Flu and pneumonia rank among the top 10 causes of death for American Indians and Alaska Natives.

American Indians and Alaska Natives are more likely to die from pneumonia and flu than are US residents of other races.¹

Across the U.S., flu causes hundreds of thousands of hospitalizations each season.

American Indians and Alaska Natives are at higher risk than others for:

- Pneumonia and bronchitis
- Hospitalization
- Death

Flu poses an even greater risk to American Indians and Alaska Natives who:
are young children or elders

are pregnant women have diabetes, severe obesity, heart disease, or asthma and other lung problems

Flu symptoms
can include:

FATIGUE
(FEELING VERY TIRED)
HEADACHE
OR BODY ACHES
Runny or stuffy nose
CHILLS
COUGH SORE THROAT

FEVER

*Not everyone with flu will have a fever

Benefits of Flu Vaccination

- Flu vaccination reduces your risk of getting sick, being hospitalized, or dying from flu.
- Flu vaccination can reduce the risk of having a heart attack in people who have heart disease.
- In people who have diabetes, flu vaccination can reduce the risk of being hospitalized with flu or from their diabetes.
- Flu vaccination has been shown in some studies to reduce severity of illness in people who get vaccinated but still get sick.
- Getting vaccinated yourself may also protect people around you, including those who are more vulnerable to serious flu illness, like babies and young children, elders, and people with certain chronic health conditions.

Take 3 Steps to Fight the Flu:

1

Get yourself and your family a flu vaccine each year before flu activity begins in your community. Getting vaccinated this season is may be more important than ever if there is both flu and COVID-19 activity at the same time.

2

Take everyday preventive actions to stop the spread of germs

Wash your hands often

Cover your coughs and sneezes

Stay home if you are sick

3

Take flu antiviral medicine if prescribed

Get a Flu Vaccine at:

Indian Health Service, tribal, or urban health clinics and doctor's offices

Pharmacies or grocery stores

Ask your Community Health Representative or Community Health Aide for more information!

HOW TO CONTROL CHOLESTEROL

1 UNDERSTAND CHOLESTEROL

Cholesterol is a fat-like substance that comes from two sources: FOOD and BODY.

It is found in foods from animal sources only.

It travels in the body by lipoproteins (LDL and HDL).

HDL = GOOD

High-density lipoprotein is known as "good" cholesterol.

LDL = BAD

Low-density lipoprotein is known as "bad" cholesterol.

HDL helps keep LDL from sticking to artery walls and reduces plaque buildup. This process can lower the risk of heart disease and stroke.

heart.org/Atherosclerosis

TRIGLYCERIDES

The most common type of fat in the body.

TOTAL CHOLESTEROL

$HDL + LDL + 1/5\text{th of triglyceride level} = \text{total cholesterol level.}$

2 TRACK LEVELS

A health care provider can measure blood cholesterol and help you understand what the levels mean.

Track your cholesterol levels over time and take steps to reduce high cholesterol.

3 TIPS FOR SUCCESS

EAT SMART

Eat a healthy diet of vegetables, fruits, whole grains, beans, legumes, nuts, plant-based proteins, lean animal proteins and fish. Limit sugary drinks and foods, fatty or processed meats, full-fat dairy products, eggs and tropical oils.

heart.org/EatSmart

MOVE MORE

Physical activity helps improve cholesterol levels.

heart.org/MoveMore

KNOW YOUR FATS

The fats you eat can affect your cholesterol levels. Replace saturated fats with unsaturated fats. heart.org/Fats

DON'T SMOKE

Smoking lowers good HDL cholesterol and raises your risk of heart disease. heart.org/Tobacco

TAKE MEDICATION AS DIRECTED

Your doctor may prescribe statins or other medications to control your cholesterol levels.

Cholesterol Conversation Starters

Cholesterol can be a confusing health topic for a lot of people, but understanding and managing high blood cholesterol is an important step in taking control of heart health. Talk with your family and health care team about high cholesterol and heart health.

Whether you are a patient, a family member, or a health professional, these questions can help you start conversations about cholesterol.

Get to know the basics of cholesterol.

- What is cholesterol?
- How does high cholesterol affect my risk for heart disease?
- What are the risk factors for high cholesterol?
- What is the difference between LDL and HDL cholesterol?

Have an honest conversation with yourself about cholesterol.

- What are some lifestyle choices I can make to keep my cholesterol in a healthy range?
- Can I cut back on any foods that are high in saturated fat?
- Do I need to have my cholesterol checked?

Make cholesterol management and heart health a family matter.

- How can we help each other control our risk for high cholesterol?
- How are you managing your high cholesterol?
- Do we have a family history of high cholesterol, and why is it important?
- When was the last time you had a cholesterol test?

Team up with your health care team to manage cholesterol.

- How can I manage my cholesterol?
- What do my cholesterol screening numbers mean?
- Are cholesterol-lowering medicines right for me or my family members?
- What are statins?

Dental Fluoride Varnishing

Dental Fluoride varnishing is one of the best ways to prevent tooth decay. Varnish (Cavity Shield) is a topical application that hardens upon contact with saliva therefore is safe to use on younger children. Varnish helps stop tooth decay in its early stages. It can be applied to teeth up to 4X a year to help slow down the cavity causing bacteria.

The application is painless and does not require numbing or drilling in the mouth. Minor risks include: gagging, or a funny taste when applied.

Opposition to Proposed Lithium Mine in Big Sandy Valley

Opposition to Proposed Lithium Mine in Big Sandy Valley

Hualapai and Allies march to BLM headquarters and then to Wikieup to protest mining proposal

Marchers along Route 66 on Saturday afternoon just west of Truxton, Arizona.

With support from Hualapai Cultural Resources and Employees Working for Health (EW4H), tribal members and allies from the Southwest joined Mr. Ivan Bender on the protest march against the proposed lithium mine south of Wikieup on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) lands surrounding three sides of the tribe's Cholla Ranch property. The proposed lithium mine, if developed, would very likely harm the sacred spring Ha 'Kamwe' located on the tribe's 360-acre parcel. The march began at 6:00 AM in Peach Springs and will end at the Cholla Ranch on Tuesday afternoon with a stop in Kingman on September 27 to protest in front of the BLM Office. When complete, the marchers will have covered over 100 miles on Route 66, Interstate 40 and Highway 93.

Exploratory mining by the Australian company Hawkstone began on the adjoining BLM land in 2018. Mr. Bender noticed this activity and reported it to the tribe. In early 2021, with test results showing a lithium deposit with commercial potential, Hawkstone made its intent clear to move to the next phase of development – a pilot project that would eventually evolve into a fully operational mine making up several hundred acres of land and using some 500,000 gallons of water for every ton of lithium extracted. Tribal council passed Resolution No. 24-2021 formally opposing the development of a lithium next to Cholla Ranch.

Hawkstone must receive approval of their mining plan from the BLM before they can move to the pilot project stage. The BLM must review the environmental impacts which include dealing with waste material, tailings, a sulfuric acid plant, new access roads, cultural resources, and natural resources such as air quality and water use. At present, Hawkstone is re-writing their environmental document to address these concerns, many of which were identified by tribal staff who reviewed the original draft earlier this year. However, exploratory drilling is still going on up and down Hwy 93 at Burro Creek and Trout Creek. This is made possible by the exemption that mining companies enjoy under the 1872 Mining act which allows such work on small sites containing less than 5 acres to proceed with little government regulation.
